

Any regulation restricting the use of free software can only be viewed as an instrument of terror wielded by the lowest form of scum known to mankind: cartels and monopolies. The ONLY lower form of life known to exist are the bureaucrats who act in their behalf to the complete and utter detriment of the public good.

In spite of what Mush Limbo tells you on hate radio: greed is not the highest level of the human condition.